First Strike

The Homestead in the Eucalypts
Leonie Kelsall
When student doctor Taylor Lawrence's city life is turned upside down, she seeks sanctuary on her grandparents' farm in the South Australian countryside. During the lonely nights, she fantasises of a time long-gone; of fellow settler, Luke Hartmann.

Kairos
Jenny Erpenbeck
Kairos is the winner of the International Booker Prize 2024. An intimate and devastating story of the path of two lovers through the ruins of a relationship, set against the backdrop of a seismic period in European history.

Breaking The Dark
Lisa Jewell
Prepare to be hooked- No. 1 Sunday Times bestselling author Lisa Jewell launches the Marvel Crime program with an original story of Jessica Jones. Meet Jessica Jones—a private investigator and retired super hero based out of Hell's Kitchen, Manhattan, who goes from job to job as a hard living, rough talking, loner.

Hitchhiker
Gabriel Bergmoser
Pushing fifty and reeling from an ugly divorce, Paul has decided it's time for an adventure. With the Bee Gees on the radio and the open road ahead, he sets out into the middle of nowhere, open to whatever comes. But things take a sinister turn when he impulsively decides to pick up a hitchhiker.

This Is Why We Lied
Karin Slaughter
Everyone here is a liar, but only one of us is a killer Welcome to the McAlpine Lodge: a remote mountain getaway, it's the height of escapist luxury living. Except that everyone here is lying. Lying about their past. Lying to their family. Lying to themselves.

Cancer Finishing School
Peter Goldsworthy
From poet and bestselling novelist Peter Goldsworthy, this darkly funny, bittersweet memoir offers lessons in how to live life in the shadow of an incurable illness. 'My first stray thought: cancer is a gift. I'm lucky to have it. What priceless material for a doctor-writer. 'What lessons might cancer teach him before it finishes him off? Peter Goldsworthy asks, obliquely.

Whole life sentence
Lynda La Plante
Newly promoted DCI Jane Tennison has elbowed her way into the Area Major Incident Pool, or AMIP, an elite team investigating non-domestic murders. Then she gets her first assignment: a five-year-old cold case of a missing teenager no one else has any interest in investigating, and an assumed suicide Tennison suspects is, in fact, murder.

The Farmer's Wife
Helen Rebanks
Helen Rebanks' beautifully written memoir takes place across a single day on her working farm in the Lake District of England. Full of gentle wisdom, this book is an honest portrait of rural life and an authentic exploration of both the hard work and reward of keeping a home and raising a family—even though the job is often thankless and invisible.

One day David Nicholls

1988. Dexter and Emma meet and cannot stop thinking about one another. Each July 15th for the next twenty years, snapshots of their relationship are revealed. Facing squabbles and fights, hopes and missed opportunities, laughter and tears, the meaning of this one day is revealed - they must come to grips with the nature of love and life itself.

First lie wins Ashly Elston

Con artist Evie Porter is given her assignments by her mysterious boss. Given a name and location, she learns everything she can about her target, Mark Ryan. But he gets under her skin and she starts to see a different future for herself. But can she escape her own past as telltale clues to her real past begin to surface?

What happened to Nina Dervla McTiernan

Nina and Simon are inseparable, but when Simon returns alone from a weekend in their country cabin his explanation for Nina's absence is flimsy. Their respective families take sides as to whether he is telling the truth. The resulting media and legal frenzy leads to amateur internet sleuths and journalists alike descending on the small Vermont town.

Yeah, nah! : a celebration of life and the words that make us who we are William McInnes

McInnes delves into Australia's colourful way with words, from the simpler times of childhood to today's testing (and unprecedented!) times to wasting time, enjoying sporting times or hitting the big time, there's a turn of phrase for every situation. A mix of memoir and manifesto, warmly witty and poignant, this will have you thinking about how you say what you say.

Servo David Goodwin

An odyssey of drive-offs, spiked slurpees and sleep-deprived madness—that's life in a servo. Goodwin worked the weekend graveyard shift at his local Melbourne servo, witnessing a consistent level of lunacy - giant shoplifting bees; balaclava-clad goons hurling cordial-filled water bombs and MDMA-addled anarcho-goths releasing large rats from Harry Potter backpacks. Finally leaving, he wrote this darkly side-splitting coming-of-age story.

Ghost cities Sian Lu

A translator is fired from his job at Sydney's Chinese Consulate because he relies on Google Translate.

Relocated to an uninhabited Chinese megacity, his story entwines with an ancient Emperor who creates a thousand copies of himself; a sentient mountain and a chess-playing automaton hiding a deadly secret. Allegorical and imaginative, this will appeal to readers of Murakami and Calvino
