Backstage
Donna Leon

In Wandering Through Life, Donna Leon recounts her vibrant life journey. In Backstage, she explores the influence of Ruth Rendell and Ross Macdonald on her storytelling. Beautifully written, her memoir blends candor with literary insight, offering readers a rich and respectful experience.

The Good Daughter
Kumi Taguchi

Growing up in Australia with a Japanese father and an Australian mother, Taguchi experienced emotional and physical distance from her father, especially after her parents' divorce. Seeking connection and understanding, she travels to Japan to explore the father she lost and the cultural heritage she had yet to fully embrace.

The Voice Inside
John Farnham

The winners of the 2025 Australian Book Industry Awards (ABIA) have been announced, with The Voice Inside taking out the overall Book of the Year award, as well as winning in both the Biography Book of the Year and Audiobook of the Year categories.

Vanish
Shelley Burr

Lane Holland is in prison, eligible for parole next year - though returning to his former life as a private investigator is no longer an option.

Yet one case still haunts him: the disappearance of Matilda Carver. Now, Holland is granted temporary release under a 'work and study' program to investigate a secluded commune.

Eden
Mark Brandi

Fresh from jail, Tom Blackburn gets a peaceful outdoor job in Melbourne. He begins to make plans that don't include jailtime. But trouble finds him. If he can't figure things out quickly, jail might be his safest option.

Atmosphere
Taylor Jenkins Reid

1980. Physicist Jane Goodwin is obsessed with the stars, so being selected for the Space Shuttle program is a dream come true. She forms strong bonds with her fellow astronauts, but on their first flight, things take a dark turn...

The Tenant
Freida McFadden

Losing a highly paid job, Blake Porter takes on a boarder to keep up payments on his New York apartment. Things look positive, until the neighbours start avoiding him, and the smell of decay permeates his home...

The Surgeon of Royaumont
Susan Neuhaus

Based on Australian doctor Clara Heywood's real-life experiences, we accompany recently-graduate d Clara as she takes an opportunity to become one of the few female surgeons in World War I France. This is a heartbreaking but inspiring story.

Plantology
Teena Crawford & Lisa Elli

The authors of Plantology bring together over 60 years of combined professional experience in the world of plants, spanning horticulture, landscaping, and beyond. This book isn't just for industry experts - it's a valuable resource for everyday gardeners.

Before We Forget Kindness Toshikazu Kawaguchi

If you could revisit a moment when you made an embarrassing mistake - perhaps saying the wrong thing - knowing you'd only have a few minutes and couldn't change the outcome, would you still go back? This question lies at the heart of the beautifully written and much-anticipated fifth novel in the Before the Coffee Gets Cold series.

Lonely Mouth Jacqueline Maley

Matilda and her younger half-sister, Lara, share a tangled past but lead strikingly different lives. While Lara thrives in the glamorous world of modelling, Matilda keeps to herself, working full-time at one of Sydney's most prestigious restaurants. Once Lara's father and Matilda's stepfather comes back into the picture, Matilda finds her carefully controlled world unravelling.

A Bit on the Side Virginia Trioli

Many ABC TV viewers and talkback radio listeners will already know Virginia Trioli. In A Bit on the Side, she offers a vibrant celebration of a life well lived. As a passionate foodie of Italian heritage, she believes that food gives us the perfect metaphor for how to devour the real flavour of life.

Brief Answers to the Big Questions Stephen Hawking

Stephen Hawking was a brilliant physicist and cosmologist whose work reshaped our understanding of the universe.

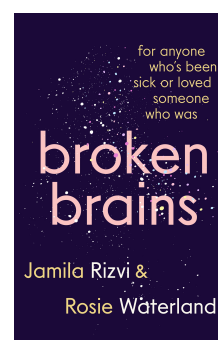

His writing reflects his intellect, curiosity, and dry wit, offering deep insights into science while remaining engaging and accessible.

Vera Wong's Guide to Snooping (on a Dead Man) Jesse Sutanto

Meet Vera Wong: A widowed Chinese mother who runs a small tea shop in San Francisco's Chinatown. The story begins when Vera discovers Millie, a young woman sitting outside a police station. Millie is searching for a missing friend—and Vera is determined to help, whether Millie wants her to or not.

Broken Brains Jamila Rizvi & Rosie Waterland

In Broken Brains, two women bravely share their personal journeys to inspire us. One has faced the immense challenge of living with brain tumours, while the other has navigated the lasting impact of a traumatic childhood. Through their stories, they offer strength, insight, and the courage to face adversity head-on.
