Outdoor Dining

If you want your customers to dine outside on land owned by the Council, you will need an outdoor dining permit.

Our Mediterranean climate combined with our rich cultural diversity, coupled with easy access to high quality local produce and wine, is leading to increased demand for outdoor dining across Adelaide.

Outdoor dining adds to the area by creating vibrant and dynamic street frontages. Outdoor dining also provides a link between businesses and pedestrians, encouraging active street life beyond normal trading hours and adding to the overall safety of the area

The Council has established a set of guidelines and conditions for outdoor dining. These are set out in the Outdoor Dining Policy

An outdoor dining permit is required for any outdoor dining or seating area located on land owned by the Council (usually footpaths) where food and beverages are provided to seated patrons.

The Outdoor Dining Permit Application form contains a list of the information you will need to lodge with your application.

Please note: If you wish to establish a new outdoor dining area on public land, you will also need to lodge a development application form.
