

Development Fact Sheet 14

Costs Associated with Development Assessment

The cost of a Development Application varies greatly depending on the type of development and the use of professional advice. In addition to Development Assessment fees charged by the relevant authority, Development Assessment costs may include the following:

- Planning Consultant fees
- Building Consultant fees
- Surveyor fees
- Draftsperson fees

While using professional advice is an additional cost, the resulting Application is typically of a higher standard and may have a better chance of a fast approval. Good professional advice will also result in a better development outcome, so it is worth considering getting professional help to prepare your Application, particularly if it is of a complex nature.

The following key Development Assessment fees came into effect on 1 July 2019. These fees will be updated annually and are generally only current for about one year. You should check with the Council prior to lodgement of your Application if you want to be absolutely certain of the cost of submitting your Application.
